

FAMILY COMMUNICATION PLAN

Emergencies can happen any time. Have a family discussion and plan together what you'll do. Keep this information in a few safe places, like your emergency supply kit, on everyone's phones, and in everyone's wallet or backpack.

TEXT, DON'T TALK: Unless you're in danger, send a text. Texts can get through more easily than calls and help keep the network open for first responders.

LET THEM KNOW YOU'RE OKAY: Set up a group text on all family members' phones. Text the group to say you're okay and share your location.
